The story is about the prophet, Muhammad. Sulaiman, who was leader of Israels' army and was also an excellent boxer, had a famous wife from his tribe of Banu Isra'il. When Isra'is' prophet, Muhammad, Sulaiman and Muhammad's wife, had a son, Sulaiman told Muhammad that there was a place in the sea that produced olive oil. Muhammad went and found the place. After Muhammad had left, Sulaiman said to Muhammad's wife, 'Tell your husband that when he comes back, he can say that I have lied to him, for there is no olive oil in this place.' When Muhammad came back, he told his wife what Sulaiman had said, and she replied: 'Then tell him to go back, for there is.' Muhammad then said to Sulaiman that he did not come back, and Sulaiman replied: 'Then you must go back for I knew that the place was filled with olive oil.' Muhammad did go back, and there was really olive oil there and Muhammad found this out. This story was recorded and is now part of the holy books of Islam. References
